CANDIDATES FOR CUYAHOGA EXECUTIVE
INVITED TO TRANSPORTATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE FORUM

The Cleveland State University Transportation Center, joined by professional engineering and transportation organizations, issued an invitation to the candidates for Cuyahoga County Executive to address the region's pressing transportation and infrastructure issues at a forum on Tuesday, October 5.

The recent charter change approved by voters eliminated a separately elected county engineer and the next county executive will appoint a Director of Public Works. The forum will focus on what the candidates see as the priority issues facing the region, including how to pay for roads, bridges and other infrastructure needs, and what type of qualifications will be required for the Director of Public Works.
